The 11th Jungian Odyssey
Annual Conference & Retreat

“All the works of man have their origin in creative fantasy. What right have we then to depreciate imagination? In the ordinary course of things, fantasy does not go astray; it is too deep for that, and too closely bound up with the tap-root of human and animal instinct. . . . The creative activity of the imagination frees man from his bondage to the ‘nothing but’ and liberates him in the spirit of play. As Schiller says, man is completely human only when he is playing.”

Soweit wir zu erkennen vermögen, ist es der einzige Sinn der menschlichen Existenz, ein Licht anzuzünden in der Finsternis des blossen Seins. Es ist sogar anzunehmen, dass, wie das Unbewusste auf uns wirkt, so auch die Vermehrung unseres Bewusstseins auf das Unbewusste.

Erinnerungen, Träume, Gedanken von C.G. Jung (Olten: Walter-Verlag,1987) S. 329.

As far as we can discern, the sole purpose of human existence is to kindle a light in the darkness of mere being. It may even be assumed that just as the unconscious affects us, so the increase in our consciousness affects the unconscious.

Memories, Dreams, Reflections by C.G. Jung (New York: Vintage, 1965) p.326.

An Introduction to the Psychology of Mystical Experience

In this seminar we will review a number of Jungian writings on mystics and mysticism, including passages from C.G. Jung, Erich Neumann, Aniela Jaffe and John Dourley. Our questions will be: What is a possible Jungian understanding of mystical experience, and does such experience have a significance in analytic practice?

Gastdozenten

Im Folgenden sind kurze Beschreibungen und Fotos einiger unserer Gastdozenten publiziert. Informationen über ISAP-Fakultätsmitglieder finden Sie auf unserer Website.

Vered Arbit, MA, is an expressive art therapist and Jungian analyst trained in ISAPZURICH, graduated in 2014. She practiced in Israel and has extensive experience in treating post-traumatic and sexually abused women. She teaches workshops dealing with treatment of dissociation and trauma, in Israel and Taiwan. She contributed writings about personal and collective trauma in books published in the last decade.

Guest Presenters

You will find below short descriptions and photos of some of our guest lecturers. Information on ISAP faculty members is posted on our website.

Josephine Evetts-Secker, Emeritus Professor is a graduate of the C G Jung Institute, Zürich, and a member of IGAP, London. She taught English literature at the University of Calgary but now lives and practices in Whitby, UK. She has published poetry, collections of fairy tales and articles on literature and psychology. Her book At Home in the Language of the Soul is a recent ZLS Spring publication. She is currently president of AGAP's Executive Council.

Elisabeth Kampmann, cand.scient.soc. is a graduate of ISAP Zurich. She has a practice in Copenhagen, Denmark and has for many years been interested in and worked with Norse mythology.

Martin Liebscher is Philemon editor of the works of C.G. Jung, Senior Research Associate and Honorary Senior Lecturer at the Centre for the History of Psychological Disciplines at University College London. His publications include Thinking the Unconscious (2010) and Libido und Wille zur Macht: C.G. Jungs Auseinandersetzung mit Nietzsche (2011). He is the editor of the correspondence between C.G. Jung and Erich Neumann (Philemon Series, 2015).

Eleonóra Babejová, PhD is a writer and a Jungian analyst trained at ISAP Zurich. She has a psychotherapeutic practice in Zug and Zurich and works at the ISAP library. She was awarded her PhD from the University of Cambridge in historical geography and has worked as a teacher, research scholar and a translator. Her interests include poetry and poetics, embodiment and immanence, relationship between longing, desire and the Other.

Mathew Mather, PhD is a Lecturer in Creative Multimedia at Limerick School of Art and Design, in Ireland. There he pioneered a course in Jungian psychology with art therapy. His doctoral thesis at the University of Essex was on Jung and alchemy, now published under the title of The Alchemical Mercurius: Esoteric symbol of Jung's life and works (Routledge, 2014). He regularly presents at international conferences.
